When the student is ready, the teacher arrives.

- Toni is Australia's leading iridology researcher and teacher. She has lectured nationally and internationally at many iridology conferences from her own personal research in iridology.
- Some of her research involves a discovery of unique iris indicators including a sclera sign signifying a potential skin cancer risk. This information was based on many case studies and patterns related in the iris.
- Today, Toni continues to teach, lecture and research and still devotes her time to IIPA as a member of the IIPA Board of Directors in 2016.
