

BIOSCAN OPTIONS

VIRTUAL ITEMS

ZYTO Bioscan software contains more than 40,000 digital signatures representing actual items. These include not only products from over 200 nutritional product companies, which we call balancer Virtual Items, but also thousands of items representing internal body systems as well as external factors which are called stressor Virtual Items.

A wellness professional can scan you for as few or as many of these items as desired based on your needs and specific wellness goals. Generally, a Bioscan consists of scanning for stressors, and then scanning balancers to determine the top items that will bring the most stressors back into range, or balance.

ZYTO REPORTS

ZYTO reports are personalized to you and your body. They enable you to make better decisions based off of your body's preferences.

Along with the knowledge of what products may work for you, ZYTO also provides information that can be linked, correlated, and reveal patterns as well as trends in the items that you were scanned for.

ZYTO BIOSCAN

“ZYTO HELPS REMOVE THE GUESSWORK WHEN CHOOSING
PERSONAL WELLNESS PRODUCTS”

WHAT IS ZYTO?

ZYTO ASSISTS IN SELECTING WHICH NUTRITIONAL PRODUCTS WORK FOR YOU WITHOUT THE GUESSWORK.

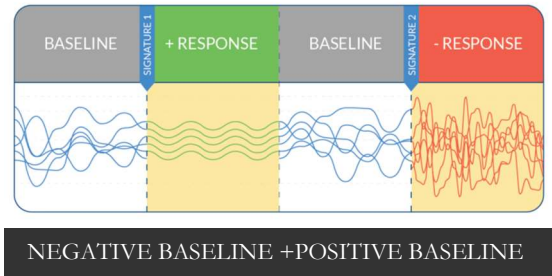

In the past you may have run into the issue of having too many supplements. All or none which were working. This is a difficult task to undertake as there are many nutritional products available today on the market. Finding what products your body needs can be costly and time-consuming.

By getting a ZYTO Bioscan, you will be able to find what works for your body without the time-consuming search and without having to deal with unknowns.

BEYOND NUTRITION SCANNING

ZYTO scans the body for an array of different nutritional products. Such products could be supplements, essential oils, and skin products. The Zyto Scan can also scan the body for preferred foods, lifestyle, and can scan for your body's wellness needs.

WHAT ZYTO SCANS

When the parts and pieces of a system work in harmony with one another, we call this coherence. The greater a system's coherence, oftentimes the greater its efficiency. Measuring this signal of cooperation, or the lack thereof, provides understanding about what may increase or decrease efficiency.

When the body's energetic coherence increases after a Virtual Item is introduced, the item is given a positive score. If the body's energetic coherence decreases, the item is given a negative score.

HOW ZYTO MEASURES

Just like a flight simulator allows a pilot to see how they may respond to various situations, ZYTO provides information as to how the body may respond to various "situations" or stimuli.

These signals are generated using ZYTO software. We call these Virtual Items.

ZYTO HAND CRADLE

Just like a doctor uses a stethoscope to listen to a child's breathing, ZYTO "listens" to the body's subtle galvanic skin response using the ZYTO Hand Cradle.

Through this connection, biocommunication can occur.
